Media members wishing to cover a single game must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Communications staff at least 24 hours prior to the intended game. Passes are issued on a space-available basis for all single-game requests. First-time requests must be in written form on company letterhead and received by mail, or by fax at (215) 339-7632. Credentials will be left at the Press Entrance (located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level) and can be picked up two hours prior to tip-off on game nights.

ENTRANCE: Media members attending a Sixers game at the Wachovia Center should enter the building through the Press Entrance, located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level.

PARKING: Parking passes are issued prior to the season to those media members who regularly cover the team. Media members wishing to cover a single game, and requiring parking, must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Communications staff at least 48 hours prior to game day. Media members attending Sixers games should park in Lot F, located between the Wachovia Center and the Wachovia Spectrum, along the 11th Street side.

PRESS ROOM: The press room is located at the Northeast corner of the Event Floor Level. Appropriate credentials are required for press room access. The press room consists of a dining facility and a working press area. Food, game notes, press kits, storage space and working space are available to the media in the press lounge during the course of an event. Front Office Staff

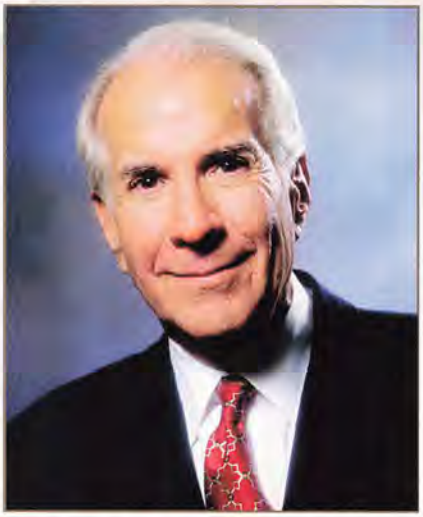
ED SNIDER CHAIRMAN



Ed Snider is one of the true giants of the sports and entertainment industry. His career has been guided by the principle that one must be constantly moving forward in order to succeed, and it's that philosophy that marks his leadership of Comcast-Spectacor today.

Ed first emerged as a leader in Philadelphia's sports business in 1966 when he founded the Philadelphia Flyers. He was the driving force behind the building of the Spectrum, and assumed control of the building in 1971. In 1974, Ed created Spectacor as a management company to oversee the Flyers and Spectrum. Over the next 20 years, Spectacor grew to be a national force in sports and entertainment. Under Ed's guidance, Spectacor started or acquired nearly a dozen businesses over the 20-year period from 1974 through 1994. Many of these enterprises were sold at a time when each was the industry leader in its field.

Perhaps nothing demonstrates Ed's perseverance and desire to succeed like the development of the Wachovia Center, a $210 million state-of-the-art arena completed in 1996. In the summer of 2000, the facility gained national prominence as the host facility for the Republican National Convention. Today, the Wachovia Center and the Wachovia Spectrum comprise the most active sports and entertainment complex in the world.

In 1996, Ed merged Spectacor into Comcast Corporation, creating Comcast-Spectacor. The new venture initially consisted of the Philadelphia Flyers, Philadelphia 76ers, Wachovia Center, Wachovia Spectrum and Philadelphia Phantoms. Comcast-Spectacor then joined with the Philadelphia Phillies to form Comcast SportsNet, one of the highest-rated regional sports networks in the country.

Most recently, Comcast-Spectacor has developed the Flyers Skate Zone, a series of regional ice skating rinks; Global Spectrum, an international facilities management company; Ovations Food Services, a national concessions company; and Patron Solutions, a company which specializes in providing innovative technological solutions for box office management, event management and customer communications. These entities all represent components of Ed's vision: take what you do well and grow it.

Ed's success has been recognized by his peers. He was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1988 and serves on the NHL's Executive Committee. He is a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States and has been elected to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame and the Flyers Hall of Fame.

In February of 2001, Ed received Temple University's First Annual Sports Leadership Award presented by The Fox School of Business and Management. In May 1999, he was selected by Philadelphia Daily News readers as Philly's Greatest mover and shaker of the millennium in mail-in and online balloting. In December 1999, he received the Anti-Defamation League's prestigious Americanism Award. In 1985, Ed received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from MCP Hahnemann University and in May of 1999, he received the same from Thomas Jefferson Hospital. He is also a Benefactor and Advisory Board Member of the Sol C. Snider Entrepreneurial Center of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Other Board memberships include Board of Overseers of the Wharton School, the Isadore Brodsky Institute for Cancer and Blood Diseases at MCP Hahnemann University, Institute for The Objectivist Center, the Simon Wiesenthal Center, the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia and the Middle East Forum.

Ed resides in suburban Philadelphia. His children include daughters Lindy, Tina, and Sarena and sons Craig, Jay, and Samuel, as well as 13 grandchildren.

BILLY KING PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Named team president on May 26, 2003, Billy King enters his eighth season with the Philadelphia 76ers, marking his second complete season as the president and general manager of the organization. King oversees all aspects of basketball operations, as well as all facets of business operations. He continues to serve as the 76ers point man for all trades, player procurement and player contract negotiations.

Following his first season in his expanded role, King's initial order of business was to hire a new head coach that would re-establish the Sixers elite status. On April 21, 2004, Jim O'Brien was hired as the 20th different coach in the team's history – the 19th coach since the franchise joined the NBA (1949-50).

King, born Jan. 23, 1966, joined the 76ers on June 2, 1997, as vice president of basketball administration, a role in which he served as the point person for basketball operations. Less than a year later, he was promoted to general manager, and on April 5, 2000, he signed a new multi-year contract with the team.

Prior to King's arrival in Philadelphia, the Sixers posted six-consecutive sub-.500 records, dating back to the 1991-92 season. During his seven-year tenure, the Sixers have made drastic improvements in the win-loss column. In his first season, the squad posted a nine-game improvement, sixth-best in the NBA and tied for seventh-best in franchise history (22-60 in 1996-97 to 31-51 in 1997-98). In 1998-99, Philadelphia earned its first NBA Playoff appearance since 1990-91 ending a six-year drought and advanced to the Eastern Conference Semifinals in 1998-99 and 1999-2000. The 76ers captured their first Atlantic Division Title on the heels of a 56-26 season in 2000-01 and went on to capture their first Eastern Conference Championship since 1983 to advance to the 2001 NBA Finals. The 2002-03 season marked the 76ers fifth-straight trip to the playoffs, the longest since a 12-year span from 1978 to 1987, and the fourth-straight season with 40 or more wins.

Before joining the 76ers, King served as an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers under Larry Brown for four seasons. He joined the professional ranks after spending four seasons as an assistant at Illinois State University under former-76er assistant coach Bob Bender. He also spent one year as a color analyst for ESPN's basketball coverage of the Ohio Valley Conference.

During his collegiate career, King was an outstanding defensive player on Duke University's nationally ranked teams in the late 1980s and received the Henry Iba Corinthian National Defensive Player of the Year award following his senior season. King helped the Blue Devils to a 112-27 record, an average of 28 wins per season as Duke went to the Final Four twice, won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season championship and two ACC Tournament titles. In 1987, he helped the USA Basketball Men's World University Games silver-medal squad to a 7-1 record, with its only loss coming against a Drazen Petrovic-led Yugoslavia team in the gold medal game.

King currently serves on the USA Basketball's Executive and Senior National Team Committees and serves on the Competition Committees. He is also a member of the NBA competition committee.

King has been honored and recognized by numerous organizations for his dedication and commitment to success. In July 2000, he was honored as the Sports Executive of the Year at the Rainbow Sports Awards, reflecting not only his accomplishments in the sports industry, but also the grace, dignity, commitment and humanity that he exemplifies. In 2001, Street and Smith's Business Journal named him one the industries "Forty under 40." He was also inducted into Duke University's Hall of Honor on Dec. 2, 2001, in its charter group. In May 2003, Sports Illustrated named King, along with fellow 76ers Sonny Hill and Allen Iverson, one of the "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports," a list that included "men and women that are reshaping the sports industry and opening doors through which others will follow." King also was honored by the African-American Ethnic Sports Hall of Fame as the NBA Executive of the Year in July 2003.

A political science major at Duke, King follows national and local politics closely. He is also a movie buff and previously hosted his own movie review show for WBNQ-Radio in Bloomington, Ill., titled "Kings Clips." King resides in suburban Philadelphia with his Neopolitan Mastiff, "Caesar."

TONY DILEO SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT & ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Tony DiLeo enters his 15th season with the 76ers basketball operations department.

After spending four seasons as the Sixers director of player personal (1999-03), DiLeo was promoted to senior vice president/assistant general manager in September 2003.

DiLeo assists President and General Manger Billy King with player procurement through his evaluation of amateur and professional talent, and supervises the team's draft effort and college and professional scouting systems.

During his tenure DiLeo has been involved in every aspect of the team's basketball operations, including coaching, scouting and management. Formerly the team's director of scouting and assistant coach, DiLeo has extensive experience in international basketball, both as a player and coach. He played and coached in West Germany for 10 seasons before joining the Sixers staff for the 1990-91 season. He coached the West German men's and women's teams from 1979-90, winning nine national titles in the country's top division. DiLeo was selected as the West German federation National Coach (1981-85) and the country's coach of the year in 1987.

In 1984, DiLeo wrote and published the European Basketball Handbook, a guide to accommodated American players overseas. He also has written a manual on rule differences among international basketball, the NBA and the NCAA.

A star at Cinnaminson (N.J.) High School, DiLeo went on to play at Tennessee Tech and LaSalle University. As a junior at La Salle, he was a first team Academic All-Amerian and graduated maxima cum laude from the School of Business.

He and his wife, Anna, and sons, T.J. and Max, live in South Jersey.

COURTNEY WITTE DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Courtney Witte (pronounced Witty) enters his seventh season with 76ers basketball operations department and 18th overall in the NBA. After serving as the Sixers director of scouting for two seasons (2001-03), Witte was promoted to his current position, director of player personnel, in September 2003.

As director of player personnel, Witte will continue to be involved in all aspects of the teams basketball operations along with draft-night preparation and will coordinate the 76ers professional scouting and collegiate player evaluation process.

Witte joined the Sixers prior to the 1998-99 season as a video coordinator and scout after spending 11 seasons with the Indiana Pacers most recently as their advance scout. Witte oversaw the reconstruction of the 76ers state-of-the-art video room that features both nonlinear computerized and linear video-editing systems. He served as an assistant coach/director of scouting for the Sixers, after a two-year stint as an assistant coach/head scout.

Witte played collegiate basketball at Indiana University (1984-86) under Coach Bob Knight, having the distinction of being his first junior college recruit. During his two seasons at Indiana, the Hoosiers made two tournament NCAA appearances, highlighted by a victory over the top-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels in the Final Eight.

Witte is single and resides in suburban Philadelphia.

JIM O'BRIEN HEAD COACH

On April 21, 2004, Jim O'Brien was introduced as head coach of the Philadelphia 76ers, becoming the 20th head coach in franchise history. In his 30 years of coaching experience, O'Brien, has served as an assistant coach at six different colleges, a head coach at the University of Dayton (1989-94) and Wheeling Jesuit (1982-87), and an NBA assistant coach with the New York Knicks (1987-89) in addition to his seven years with the Celtics as an assistant coach (1997-2001) and a head coach (2001-04).

After serving as an assistant coach in Boston from 1997-2001, O'Brien was named interim head coach of the Celtics on Jan. 8, 2001, following the departure of Rick Pitino. The Philadelphia native signed a multi-year contract as head coach on April 24, 2001. On Jan. 27, 2004, Boston announced O'Brien's resignation as head coach.

During his four seasons as a head coach, O'Brien led Boston to a 139-119 (.539) record and back-to-back playoff appearances in 2002 and 2003, including a trip to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time since the team's 1987-88 campaign.

As interim head coach for the final 48 games of the 2000-01 season, O'Brien led the Celtics to a .500 record (24-24). The following season, his first full season as head coach, O'Brien directed Boston to its best record (49-33, .598) since the 1991-92 campaign as the Celtics made their first playoff appearance since the 1994-95 season. The Celtics defeated Philadelphia in five games in the opening round and advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals where they were defeated by New Jersey in six games.

Prior to joining the Celtics as an assistant coach, O'Brien served as an associate head coach to Pitino from 1994-97 at the University of Kentucky. During those three years the Wildcats posted a 95-12 record, winning the NCAA National Championship in 1996 and losing in overtime in the 1997 title game.

As head coach at the University of Dayton from 1989-94, O'Brien led the Flyers to a 61-87 (.412) record. In his first season (1989-90), the Flyers posted a 22-10 record, capturing the Midwestern Collegiate Conference (MCC) Tournament championship and advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to coaching at Dayton, O'Brien was an assistant coach for Pitino with the New York Knicks. In 1987-88, the Knicks notched a 14-win improvement over the previous season and qualified for the NBA Playoffs for the first time in four years.

Before taking the Knicks post, O'Brien served as the head coach at Wheeling Jesuit College (1982-87) and posted a 74-69 (.517) record in five seasons. Overall, O'Brien posted a 135-156 (.464) collegiate record in 10 seasons as a head coach.

DAVE COSKEY COMCAST-SPECTACOR TEAM MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS GROUP PRESIDENT

With more than 23 years experience in the fields of sports and entertainment, Dave Coskey, the president of the Comcast-Spectacor Team Marketing and Communications Group, has played a large part in the resurgence of the 76ers organization not just in Philadelphia, but in the NBA. He was elevated to his current position on May 26, 2003, and continues to lead the marketing, communications and community relations activities of all Comcast-Spectacor teams, including the 76ers, the Philadelphia Flyers, and the Philadelphia Phantoms.

During his tenure with the 76ers, Coskey has played an integral role in the area of attendance enhancement. The Sixers have averaged more than 19,200 fans in four-straight seasons, including the 2001-02 season that featured franchise records for total attendance (842,976), average attendance (20,560) and sellouts (25). With their march to the NBA Finals in 2001, the Sixers surpassed the million-fan mark for the first time in its history. Philadelphia has sold-out 50 games in the last three seasons and in 2003-04 ranked fourth in the NBA for home attendance with an average 19,223 fans per game.

Much of this success can be attributed to the creativity that has become a cornerstone of the Sixers marketing and promotional efforts. Innovative giveaways like the Allen Iverson Celebriduck and the 76ers Pet Rock, extraordinary game presentation, and a high-energy atmosphere at the Wachovia Center have all contributed to a great environment for Sixers fans.

In the midst of his second stint with the Sixers, Coskey previously served as the team's director of public relations and assistant director of marketing from 1986-1988. In his return to the organization, Coskey served as the team's senior vice president and was later promoted to executive vice president in July 2001, a position he held for the last two seasons.

Coskey served as vice president of marketing at Trump Plaza Hotel and Casino before becoming a principal in MediaWorks Communications, an award-winning advertising, public relations and video production firm located in Linwood, N.J.

A graduate of Villanova University, Coskey received the "Alumni Medal for Outstanding Achievement" from the College of Arts and Sciences in 2001 and is the author of Faces & Places From Avalon's Past.

He and his wife Monica currently reside in Avalon, N.J., along with their three sons David, Michael and Stephen.

LARA PRICE SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF BUSINESS OPERATIONS

When she was elevated to vice president of marketing in August 1998, Price became one of only 18 female vice presidents in the NBA. After being named the team's Senior Vice President in August 2001, Price was promoted to her current position in June 2003 and will continue to coordinate the day-to-day activities of the 76ers business operation closely with Sixers President and General Manager Billy King. In her expanded role, Price will also assist in overseeing the team's marketing and communications department, which includes Communications, Community Relations and New Media, as well as game operations.

He also plays an integral role in managing the daily day-to-day operation along with Billy King and Lara Price.

In addition to his many financial responsibilities, Speiser also serves as a special adviser to 76ers President and General Manager Billy King on matters regarding the complexities of the NBA salary cap. His extensive knowledge of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, including the salary cap and player contracts, has made Speiser an invaluable resource to the basketball operations department.

Prior to joining the 76ers in August 1992, Speiser spent nine years working for McDonnell Douglas Truck Services, Inc. in Fort Washington, Pa., and served as their corporate controller from 1990-92.

A graduate of Syracuse University, Speiser and his wife Sharon reside in Yardley, Pa., with their sons Alex (17) and Daniel (15).

She is one of three females in the NBA who directly oversees a public relations department.

Frascona joined the 76ers on Oct. 31, 1998, as the director of communications after three years at Villanova University. She was elevated to senior director of communications in July 2001 and at that time was given the added responsibility of overseeing the Community Relations and New Media Departments.

At Villanova, her alma mater where she received a communications degree, Frascona served as an associate athletic director for media relations/senior women's administrator. Prior to her tenure at Villanova, Frascona spent two years at the Southeastern Conference as the Director of Media Relations. At the SEC office, she was in charge of the SEC championship football game and the men's basketball tournament.

After graduating from Villanova, Frascona did a one-year internship at the University of Georgia's Sports Information Office before joining the staff at Auburn University in 1990 as the associate sports information director.

SIXERS CHARITIES

Your Sixers. Our Community.

The ultimate measure of an organization's success is not only the number in the "win" column at the season's end, but what the team stands for year after year in the community.

Founded in 1996, Sixers Charities takes tremendous pride in serving the community and its children. By assisting organizations that focus on youth, recreation, health and education, our hope is to make a positive difference. We have helped create and assist in a wide variety of services, including educational and recreational programs, and provide tickets, autographed and promotional items, and publicity. Most importantly, the personal involvement and dedication of the 76ers family is what we hope will make Philadelphia a better place to live.

As partner and friend to the children of the Delaware Valley, the 76ers are primarily focused on helping kids succeed in school, form well-rounded lives, and, most of all, have fun. After all, children should have the opportunity to play, grow, dream, and ultimately, "win" at life. The Sixers reach out to area youth in many ways. The franchise's programming covers an incredible range, from monthly reading appearances at local schools, to educational initiatives on the team's web site, to refurbishing playgrounds, to providing scholarships for students. Each year, the club touches over 35,000 kids in the Delaware Valley.

Children, however, are not the only beneficiaries of good will, as the 76ers are honored to reach Philadelphians in other ways as well. The team supports area hospitals by visiting patients of all ages, host annual outings at seniors' centers, sponsors an adult wheelchair basketball team, and honors local citizens for outstanding community service at games.

76ERS READ TO ACHIEVE

The NBA Read to Achieve program is designed to help young people develop a life long love of reading. The program promotes the value of reading, online literacy, and also encourages families and adults to read regularly with young people. The 76ers Read to Achieve program consists a variety of events including player appearances, school visits, book drives, and the establishment of reading corners and learning centers.

Throughout the season, players, coaches and members of the Sixers All-Star reading team reach out to more than 7,000 children at local schools and libraries, while donating more than 5,000 scholastic books. The Sixers All-Star reading team includes members of the 76ers family, local media members, Hip-Hop, Sixers Dance Team members and others.

During the month of March, the Sixers celebrate Reading Month with special activities, including a book drive. All collected books are donated to Philadelphia READS, which distributes the books to local schools, libraries and community-based organizations. Additionally, at each home game, a randomly selected group of children each receive a new book from one of their favorite 76ers players.

As part of the Read to Achieve program last season, the Sixers unveiled a reading corner at the Paley Police Athletic League (PAL) Center, complete with new books, bookshelves, and area rug. The Reading Corner provides Germantown-area children with a safe, comfortable place to enjoy reading.

76ERS READ FOR RONALD

The 76ers Read for Ronald program encourages students to read and also offers assistance to sick children and their families by supporting The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House. Elementary and middle school children collect pledges for each minute read during the month of February to help generate donations and support for The House.

In the initiative's eight years, representatives from more than 30 Delaware Valley schools have raised over $838,000 for The House. In 2004, 28 schools raised over $138,000, the highest total yet. Each participating student receives incentives for reading, including 76ers bookmarks, tickets, and fan packs. Sixers players, Ambassador of 76ers Basketball World B. Free, team mascot Hip-Hop and Ronald McDonald attend an annual special awards ceremony at The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House for the top readers.

76ERS BEACH BASH

The charitable event of the summer is the 76ers Beach Bash. In the first seven years, the Beach Bash has raised over $100,000 for Sixers Charities. History

A HISTORICAL LOOK AT THE SIXERS

The Philadelphia 76ers franchise actually began in 1949, when six teams from the midwest-based National Basketball League joined the Basketball Association of America to form the 17-team National Basketball Association. One of those teams was the Syracuse Nationals, which eventually became the Philadelphia 76ers. The Nats went 51-13 in their first NBA season under Al Cervi, and won the Eastern Division crown. The team was very successful in Syracuse, reaching the NBA final in both 1950 and 1954 both times losing to the Minneapolis Lakers. They finally broke through in 1955, taking their first, and only, NBA title by defeating the Fort Wayne Pistons 92-91 on April 10, 1955, taking the series 4-3. The team posted winning records in 11 of its 14 seasons in Syracuse.

The Nats were purchased by Philadelphian Irv Kosloff and Ike Richman in the spring of 1963, and the NBA approved the franchise shift (May 22) and name change (Aug. 6) from the Nationals to the 76ers, returning professional basketball to Philadelphia (The Philadelphia Warriors had left for San Francisco following the 1961-62 season). Nats star Dolph Schayes was named the Sixers first coach, and the team went 34-46 in its first season, finishing in third place. Guard Hal Greer was the star of that first Sixers team, averaging 23.3 ppg and becoming the first Sixers All-Star.

The first turning point for the franchise occurred on January 15, 1965, when the club acquired star center Wilt Chamberlain from the San Francisco Warriors for three players and cash. Chamberlain continued his NBA dominance, becoming the first Sixer to lead the NBA in scoring and rebounding while leading the team to its first Eastern Division title with a 55-25 record in '65-66.

Former Nats star and coach Alex Hannum succeeded Dolph Schayes as head coach prior to the '66-67 season, and the team picked up right where it left off, winning the Eastern Division title with a 68-13 record. The team then took the NBA title by defeating the San Francisco Warriors 4-2, clinching the series with a 125-122 win in Game 6 on April 24 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

The '67-68 season saw the Sixers move from their old home, the Philadelphia Civic Center, to the new Spectrum and Jack Ramsay became the team's first GM. They opened the building with a 103-87 win over the Los Angeles Lakers on October 18, 1967. Philly finished that season with a 62-20 record, taking their third straight Eastern Division title, but lost to the Boston Celtics 4-3 in the Eastern Conference Finals. Chamberlain etched his name yet again in the NBA recordbook in '67-68 by recording the NBA's only triple-double-double with 25 rebounds, 21 assists and 22 points in a 131-121 win over Detroit on February 2, 1968. Following the season, Ramsay succeeded Alex Hannum as Sixers head coach, and became the first person in team history to hold the dual role of head coach and general manager. The team just missed its fourth straight division title in '67-68, finishing second with a 55-27 mark, and was dethroned by the Boston Celtics in the opening round of the playoffs. Don DeJardin succeeded Ramsay as GM in the 1970-74 period.

Age and injuries then took their toll on the franchise. The '71-72 team became the first Sixers team to finish below .500 (30-52), and the 1972-73 squad became one of the more infamous teams in league annals, posting the worst mark in NBA history at 9-73 with Roy Rubin and Kevin Loughery splitting the coaching chores. Gene Shue's appointment as head coach on June 15, 1973 and the selection of Doug Collins with the first pick of the '73 NBA Draft began the Sixers return as an NBA power. Pat Williams' reign as GM ran from 1974 to 1986. They also added a key frontcourt player with the signing of free agent George McGinnis on July 10, 1975. Collins and McGinnis formed the foundation for the Sixers mid-'70's rise, as Collins averaged 17.9 ppg and garnered four All-Star game selections in his injury-shortened eight-season career, while McGinnis averaged 21.6 ppg and a pair of All-Star nods in his three Sixers campaigns.

The Sixers made its most storied move, on October 20, 1976 when the team purchased the contract of Julius Erving from the New York Nets.

The team steadily improved, highlighted by a 50-32 Atlantic Division title in '76-77 and a playoff run that saw them reach the '77 NBA Finals, where they were turned back by former coach Jack Ramsay and the Portland Trail Blazers in six games.

On November 3, 1977, Billy Cunningham replaced Gene Shue as Sixers head coach. The team took its second-straight Atlantic Division crown with a 55-27 record, but lost to the Washington Bullets in the Eastern Conference Finals.

However, the stage was now set, and their run continued as one of the elite teams in the NBA over the better part of the next decade, winning no less than 52 games in seven-straight seasons between 1979-80 and 1985-86, including three appearances in the NBA Finals. Their most memorable season during that era was 1982-83. The team, led by Erving, Moses Malone and All-Star guard Maurice Cheeks, posted a 65-17 regular season record and went on a 12-1 rampage through the NBA playoffs. They capped the championship off with a 4-0 sweep of the Los Angeles Lakers in the Finals. Harold Katz purchased the team from Fitz Dixon in July of 1981, and helped guide them to the title in his second ownership season.

Billy Cunningham continued at the helm until June 14, 1985, when he was replaced by Matt Guokas. The team, still led by Malone and Erving and a budding star named Charles Barkley, continued its run as one of the NBA's elite, finishing with a 54-28 mark in '85-86. The GMs were John Nash, 1986-90, Shue 1990-92, and Jim Lynam 1992-94.

More recent successes have included the 1989-90 Atlantic Division title (under Lynam), the club's 2,000th franchise victory on

A HISTORICAL LOOK AT THE SIXERS

December 13, 1994, over the Miami Heat, and the exciting playoff runs in both 1998-99 and 1999-00. John Lucas was hired as head coach and general manager on June 14, 1994. The sale of the club from Katz to Comcast Spectacor was approved by the NBA on April 24, 1996. Brad Greenberg was named general manager on May 8, 1996, and Johnny Davis replaced Lucas as coach June 10, 1996. After going 22-60 in 1996-97, Larry Brown was named coach on May 5, 1997. Billy King, who was first hired as Director of Player Personnel, was promoted to General Manager on May 19, 1998.

The Sixers returned to the NBA Finals in 2001 for the first time since 1983. The team also captured its first Atlantic Division title since 1990 and the first Eastern Conference crown since 1983. That same season, with Allen Iverson being named MVP, Aaron McKie Sixth Man of the Year, Dikembe Mutombo Defensive Player of the Year and Larry Brown Coach of the Year, the Sixers became the first team to win four major awards in a single season.

Following the team's fifth-straight Playoff appearance in 2003, Larry Brown resigned on May 26, 2003, while Billy King was promoted to team President. A member of Brown's staff for six seasons, Randy Ayers was named the Sixers' head coach on June 20, 2003.

The Sixers started the 2003-04 season with a 21-31 record before Ayers was replaced by Interim Head Coach Chris Ford. As the Sixers closed the season with a 12-18 record under Ford's direction, missing the playoffs for the first time since the 1997-98 season.

On April 21, 2004, King introduced Jim O'Brien as the franchises' 20th head coach. O'Brien, a Philadelphia native, brings a new system and vision to help the Sixers reclaim their status as one of the elite teams in the Eastern Conference.

HISTORY OF 76ERS GENERAL MANAGERS

The 76ers didn't have a general manager after the team debuted in Philadelphia in May 1963. Attorney Ike Richman performed some of the duties of the job between 1963 and 1966, but it wasn't until Jack Ramsay was named to the position in 1966-67 that the team had a GM. Here is the complete listing of the franchise's general managers:

GENERAL MANAGER	TENURE
Leo Ferris	1949-63
Jack Ramsay	1966-67
Don DeJardin	1970-74
Pat Williams	1974-86
John Nash	1986-90
Gene Shue	1990-92
Jim Lynam	1992-94

CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, N.J., won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on Aug. 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

1997 – PRESENT
The Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red. Philadelphia added a hot new second road uniform combining the styles of the old and the new.

This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured "SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991 – 94 (86-160)
The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978 – 91 (679-387)
The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

HARDWOOD CLASSICS NIGHTS

Since the 2002-03 season, the 76ers have been one of the teams selected by the NBA to particpate in their Hardwood Classics Nights. For the last three season, the Sixers have donned one of their former looks for a few, selected games during the regular season. The retro uniforms worn commemorate the franchises three World Championship teams.

Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76 (144-266)
SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers' next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turn-around times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70 (227-100)
The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66 (55-25)
A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65 (74-86)
The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform. Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

 - Early draft records are incomplete, so until 1956 players are listed alphabetically.*

Beginning in 1957, the draft is recorded round-by-round. To enable teams to take advantage of the regional popularity of college stars, they were given the option of forfeiting their first-round pick and instead selecting, before the start of the draft, a player from the franchise's immediate georgraphical area. These "territorial picks," as they were know, are not factored in to the overall selection count of the draft. The territorial option was in effect through 1965.
